Question:

Can mentors sponsor/support the application of more than one student during the same funding cycle? For example, I have a faculty member who has two qualifying students working on the same project. The faculty member would like to support/sponsor both students during the same funding cycle. Is this allowed?

Answer:

There is currently no restriction on the number of applications per faculty member. It is worth noting that each application will be reviewed and evaluated individually according to the selection criteria outlined in section B.7 of the RFP.
